For more information on intersectional pedagogy, see my books to the right (Case, 2013, 2017).

The resource below is connected to chapter 5 of Intersectional Pedagogy which provides details about the infusion of intersectional theory into my “Psychology of Women” course.

Complete your official student evaluation for this course:

- I will post the link to evaluations in the last week of class.
- This student evaluation will be something you do in all of your courses here at UHCL. In your face to face courses, this evaluation will be given out in class. For online courses, you will visit the HSH student evaluation site and login. The instructor will not have any access at all to these until long after all grades have been submitted.
- Be sure to fill out the evaluation by this deadline. I will absolutely use your written comments to improve the course, so I encourage you to include information there on what you liked and what you would change for next time. Thanks for taking the time to fill out this evaluation
- Login should be same username and password you use to log into Blackboard. If that does not work, you will have to call 281-283-2828. We cannot help you get into that area because it is not run by the instructors at all.
